Kelly Rohrbach is an American actress and model rose to popularity for portraying the character of C.J Parker in the movie, Baywatch.

KELLY
ROHRBACH

Kelly began her career as a professional actress with the TV Show, The New Normal in the year 2013 portraying the character of Amber. Followed by her role in another TV Series, Two and a Half Men in the same year. Later, Kelly appeared in the TV Show, The Pet Squad Files as Jayne Duncan in the year 2013 until 2015 playing the leading role.

Also, Kelly appeared in several TV Shows as guest stars including Deadbeat, Broad City, Rush, and Angie Tribeca. After playing a few TV Shows and movies, she started modeling and featured in Gap Inc.'s marketing campaign in 2014. Also, Kelly was part of the Sports Illustrated Swimsuit Issue in 2015.

Kelly made the most of her career with her acting when she landed the role of C.J Parker in the remake of 1989 series, Baywatch. She was alongside actors like Dwayne Johnson and Kevin Hart and played her part gracefully. Recently, Kelly appeared in the movie titled, A Rainy Day in New York.

BIOGRAPHY

Kelly Rorhbach as CJ Parker in Baywatch.

She may be a Baywatch star and former Sports Illustrated swimsuit model, but KELLY ROHRBACH is a total tomboy—and that's just one of the ways she busts stereotypes. Read on to get to know the real woman underneath that famous red one-piece.

ChapStick? Is that cool? Or key chains! Are key chains making a comeback?" she deadpans. "I'm like, spoons, it's spoons. We're going to start a spoon line...."

★ Good Vibes Only

Kelly is funny and cool—the kind of girl you wish your brother would bring home for Thanksgiving. For much of 2015, she was the girl romantically linked to infamous playboy Leonardo DiCaprio and splashed across the tabloids. Miraculously, she took the attention in stride. (She has never discussed the relationship publicly and won't be doing so tonight.)

So what's her secret to being extraordinarily comfortable in her own skin? Believe it or not, the answer might be prep school—specifically, the prestigious all-female Greenwich Academy, in Connecticut. (Ethel Kennedy, Jane Fonda, and Allison Williams are fellow alums.) "A really big part of who I am is that I went to a school where they teach girls to be independent, ask questions, and speak up for themselves," Kelly explains, dismissing my vision of Mean Girls in plaid kilts and cable-knits. "It wasn't your normal high school experience, where you have the jocks and the prissy girls and the cheerleaders. We didn't even have cheerleaders, and if any of us wanted to cheerlead, that would've been looked down upon because it was like, why would you want to root for anyone when you could pursue your own things?"

But despite avoiding cliques, it's not like Kelly blended in. "I was 5'9" when I was 12. My siblings would tease me and call me big friendly or freaky giant, and later, when I was approached about modeling, they would joke, 'The BFG is gonna be a model? That clunky thing?'" Kelly recalls
