What does the style you wear say about you?

My style makes absolutely no sense! I would say it adapts to my mood and the place where I am both mentally and physically. If I am in Berlin I mostly wear black, heavy, baggy clothes. When I am in warmer environments I become super feminine and colourful. I believe there's beauty in every style, so I like to mix and tap into all aspects of my persona.

Where do you stay right now ? What makes the place so special for you?

I had the luck to spend part of the quarantine in the countryside with my family and it's been so refreshing. It has allowed me to connect with nature, be surrounded by animals and green instead of the grey monotony of the city. Plus, as I left home when I was 16, it's been amazing to "go back in time" and stay with my parents for a longer period.

What has modelling given you throughout your career?

Modelling is one of the toughest and most beautiful experiences I've had so far. I believe to succeed you need to develop strong self love and self awareness to face the many challenges that may be presented to you. One of the best things modelling has given to me is the willingness to always work to better both my inner and outer self.

Why have you chosen ICONIC to be your agent?

I was signed by various agencies before finding Iconic - none of them gave me the sense of family, stability and trust that Iconic is able to provide. With Iconic I was able to land the best jobs I have ever had, working internationally and even meet some of my childhood favourites in the industry - yes, I was obsessed with fashion already - like Tisci or Piergiorgio del Moro.
